NOGALES (Mex.) March 20.—Hermosillo, capital of the State of Sonora, is believed to be in danger of attack by the rebel forces of Gen. Diaz, the ruler of the Mexican government. Federal troops are being rushed from various points along the northern line into Nogales and thence south on the Sonora railroad to Hermosillo. A special train bringing troops from Nogales was brought into Nogales on orders and dispatched southward to augment the Federal forces at the capital.

Another body of men came in from the north by train, having marched over to that point from Agua Prieta. They also went southward by train, from other points are being thence sent to Hermosillo. The Mexican government officials undoubtedly believe that the State capital is in imminent danger of being besieged by the insurgents.

NEW YORK, March 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "If President Diaz should die it would be the most appalling blow that could fall Mexico, for there isn't a man in the country who could take his place," says Mrs. L. D. Drayton, Texas State president of the Texas Club, tonight in speaking of the war scare and the mobilizing of the troops on the borders of her old home, in Texas, which runs along the Rio Grande for miles.ASSURES BARRA TROOPS SENT FOR MANEUVERS.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Whatever delusion may have existed in the relations between the United States and Mexico concerning the mobilization of 20,000 American troops near the Mexican frontier, were swept away, it is believed, by the heart-to-heart talk between President Taft and the Mexican Ambassador Senor De La Barra, at the White House today.

Ambassador De La Barra gave definite confirmation assurances which he had given the Ambassador before departing for Augusta, Ga., that Mexico need no alarm.

Ambassador De La Barra went away satisfied, but the Mexican Ambassador, in a long telegram to Minister Crescencio of foreign affairs at Mexico City, explaining the frank expression of the American Government as made to him by President Taft.

The Ambassador told the Ambassador that the latter could allay any misconception in his country over the movement of troops, with the assurance that the soldiers were sent to Texas for maneuvers, for the enforcement of the peace.

It is believed the Mexican Ambassador was informed that as soon as the maneuvers have been completed the troops will be recalled in sections, within the next four or five weeks.

SERVED CAPTURED.Major Commanding Cavalry at Douglas, Ariz., Demands That Prisoner Be Returned and Order Is Obeyed—Small Rebel Army Re ported Marching on Juarez.ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
DOUGLAS (Ariz.) March 20.—A Fed eral sergeant, who had deserted, and was today captured by Mexican officials on American soil, and then hurried back to Agua Prieta, was the cause of no little excitement here.

When the facts became known both Americans and Mexicans in Douglas gathered and made a demonstration. The demand was general that the prisoner should be returned across the border where he was taken.

Maj. John Gardner, commanding the First United States Cavalry here, took a hand in matters and requested Capt. C. A. Carter of Agua Prieta to bring the man to the American side.

"This will quiet the people here, explained the major. If the sergeant returns to Agua Prieta on his own accord we will not detain him."

An automobile was then dispatched to Agua Prieta and the sergeant who was the cause of all the trouble was brought back. He still wore his uniform and was given quite an ovation by the crowd.

Col. Mora, commanding the Federal troops in Agua Prieta, prior to releasing the sergeant, said:

"Stay over in the United States if you wish, or come back to us."

The uniformed sergeant was of the 12th Cavalry, Mexican battalion, which bore the brunt of the battle against Blanco at Agua Prieta.

United States soldiers report by wire to Douglas that Gen. Blanco, the rebel leader, is marching close to the border between Juarez and the rebel army of about 600 men. He was reported yesterday at noon four miles south of Columbus. Many rebels are said to have joined him on his march along the border.

Sergt. Cabral and his band of rebels which killed and captured a Federal force of over eighty men near Cumpanas a few days ago, has cut the telegraph wires between Bocoachi and Hermosillo, indicating Cabral's presence near Bocoachi. The wounded in that fight were taken to Juarez. So far as is known, the State Department has made no representations to Mexico in regard to the sergeant.

FEDERAL COLONEL SHOT.

John Gilroy, who has arrived at Agua Prieta, was taken prisoner by Cabral's band at the time of the Cumpanas fight. He says that he saw the rebels capture Col. Aguilar, the leader of the entrapped Federal forces. Col. Aguilar was shot in the head and died.

The rebels gave him a few minutes to write a letter to his family, which he did with a sheet of paper held over a shovel. He was then stood up and shot with one other officer, the rebels saying they were carrying out Diaz's orders to shoot all prisoners of war.

Attorney David Benshimal of Douglas has written a letter to the Secretary of State at Washington giving the facts of the recent massacre of Federal troops in Mexican prisons of Y. Y. Orloff, an American citizen. Orloff was held in jail at Frontiers and Agua Prieta as the result of a dispute over land. It was alleged that Orloff was imprisoned by the rebels without warrant of law, and later, was removed to Agua Prieta, where he was placed in the bulwarks prison.

Make Hasty Getaway.[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
YUMA (Ariz.) March 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frontiers at Algodones, Mexico, six miles below Yuma, on the San Joaquin Railroad, forty-four insurgents from Mexicali came up on a train, fleeing, it is supposed, from threatened invasion of Mexicali by Federal troops. They got off the train on the Mexican side of the line at one insurgent, an American, W. W. left his gun on the train and then the rebels called out the boundary line to Andrade, Calif., the gun was promptly confiscated.

A few minutes after the man came across the line and asked for his gun and Sergeant Lord of Troop A First Cavalry, who is the man in charge, and brought him to Yuma to appear before Capt. Wright of Troop A, who was asked what the insurgents services to the administrative branch so long as they might be considered useful by the many of my fellow-countrymen.

"Since then, the times have only served to confirm and strengthen my determination.

AVERT MENACING DANGERS.

"Not having been willing then to accept a militant political post, when it would have been easy for me to acquire it and when I could count upon the elements which offered it, much less would I think of any thing that would be the duty of all good Mexicans to rally about Gen. Diaz to avert the dangers that menace our common country."

"I do not aspire a post in high militant politics, but even if I should aspire, I have always believed that the salvation of the country lies in the first, the union of all Mexicans, and second, that every one should have, as the rule of his conduct, the subordination of everything to the highest interests of the nation."

LOSS OF DIAZ WOULD BE APPALLING BLOW.[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, March 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "If President Diaz should die it would be the most appalling blow that could fall Mexico, for there isn't a man in the country who could take his place," says Mrs. L. D. Drayton, Texas State president of the Texas Club, tonight in speaking of the war scare and the mobilizing of the troops on the borders of her old home, in Texas, which runs along the Rio Grande for miles.

The context of Madero's messages to the revolutionary junta here was not made public, but the term "as soon as developments in Mexico City warrant" was explained as meaning that Madero himself would insist upon important stipulations before peace arrangements might be entered into.

The peace arrangements, it was stated, are as follows:

President Diaz must step aside and must relinquish all the political power which might result in his return to office.

A new election for President must be called at once, with a free ballot for every male citizen of age.

The promises for reform in the land laws and in the administration of the States by popular vote, instead of by Federal control, must be under such conditions that they cannot be ignored after peace has been declared.

The insurgents will not lay down their arms, but will maintain an armed truce until the reforms are so far advanced that they are no longer required.

Whether Senor Limantour would be acceptable to Madero, as "provisional President" pending peace negotiations is not known, for couriers bearing the suggestion from New York that Limantour might become the temporary head of the government have not yet reached him. Since the proposed terms and gave Madero a high place in the government, Diaz himself remains in power," he was asked.

"Madero and Diaz are as opposed as day and night," was his answer. "The only place Diaz would give Madero would be on a scaffold. I am afraid there would be no chance for peace as long as Diaz remains President. With an armed truce, Diaz removed and a neutral ground selected for the carrying on of negotiations, then we might believe peace is near."

Ambassador Gómez, of Mexico, today protested to the United States officials against the presence of American guards upon the Mexican boundary, where Blatt and Converse were arrested by Mexican officials. The State Department took the ground that the place was United States territory. The protest of the Mexican Consul is regarded as indicating that the Mexican government is going to contest the arrest of the two Americans.

The American Ambassador told the Ambassador that the latter could allay any misconception in his country over the movement of troops, with the assurance that the soldiers were sent to Texas for maneuvers.

It is believed the Mexican Ambassador was informed that as soon as the maneuvers have been completed the troops will be recalled in sections, within the next four or five weeks.

REBELS REJOICE AT PROSPECTS OF "ARMED TRUCE" IN MEXICO.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

EL PASO (Tex.) March 20.—An "armed truce" will be established in Northern Mexico as soon as developments in Mexico City warrant, and Francisco Madero, the revolutionary President, will establish himself at a point in the field to be considered neutral ground, there to receive any peace proposals which may come as a result of their return to the Mexican republic of Senor Limantour, who recently in New York had conferences with the interested leaders.

This was established today in messages brought by courier from Madero who is within 150 miles south of his insurrection. He has proposed a full change of plans in Mexico.

INSURGENTS TOO.

The belief that Limantour was authorized by Diaz to open up a way for peace has caused much joy among the insurgents.

It is looked upon by them as a virtual recognition by the government that their demands have some foundation.

It is a condition that calls emphatically for a tonic for the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic especially adapted to meet this need as they purify and enrich the blood. They tone up the nerves and give vigor, strength and health to the debilitated system.

The cure of Mrs. A. L. Beckwith, of No. 745 Santa street, Los Angeles, Cal., proves the value of this tonic.

PAULINE CATCHES BANKS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 29.—It developed here today that liabilities of the Perry II. Smith Grain Company, which failed Saturday, will be $200,000. The assets of the firm are estimated at $120,000. Three banks in Kansas City are said to have been caught. One holds elevator receipts to secure $10,000, another for $40,000 and a third for $10,000. These banks while they hold receipts of an elevator company for grain in storage are confronted with the information that there is a question as to the ownership of the grain.

KANSAS CITY GIRL WANTS DAMAGES FOR STOLEN BUSS.

Declares Salesman Smacked Her Pretty Lips Four Times and "Brought" Her—Bent Her Over Chair Until Her Comet Burst and Mussed Her Hair.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Nellie Etheridge, who owns a manuring establishment in this city, filed a suit today against Charles R. Decker, a salesman for the Milwaukee Bag Company, in which she asks for $15,000 damages. Miss Etheridge claimed Decker forcibly kissed her four times and mussed her up considerably in the operation.

To be exact, Miss Etheridge values the four kisses at $2500 apiece—$10,000—and the $5,000 balance is for what she describes as the "mussing" he was doing.

This "roughing" consisted in bending her across the arm of a chair with such force as to burst her corset, forcing her chin up with his elbow and otherwise rumpling and musing her. As a result of it, all, Miss Etheridge says she was in bed under a physical disability for three days, with strained muscles and nervous shock.

And Miss Etheridge never gave Mr. Decker the slightest provocation for it, either—absolutely none—looked him in the eye, nor did she ever kiss his mouth at all, or did she ever do any of those things she must admit girls sometimes do, just to tease, you know, but she never did them, no, sir—she had always acted like a lady, and that's where every girl in the shop has to act like a lady or look for another job.

"On the afternoon of February 15," Miss Etheridge said this afternoon, "Decker drove up in his motor car with two other men. He was feeling gay, I could see that; but business is business, and I says to him, polite like a lady, 'Do you want a sandwich?' Mr. Decker just like that, he said, 'No, I'd like to have you a roughing and I'm going to do it.' Then he grab me and you can see how little I am—then he began to kiss me."

"I broke loose and tried to run out the door, but one of the men held it shut and then Decker grabbed me again—he bent me over the arm of a chair until I thought my back would snap."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CINCINNATI. March 20.—Developments emanating directly from the charge of perjury against George B. Cox in the Common Pleas Court here, came fast today, and in each instance the attorneys for Cox came out second best, at least temporarily.

From the time Presiding Judge Hunt refused to act on an affidavit declaring Judge Frank Gorman "biased and prejudiced" until Judge Swing ended by refusing to grant an injunction against Judge Gorman's trying the case, there was not a quiet moment.

In handing down his decision, Judge Hunt said the statute providing for the filing of a writ of mandamus to swear a judge off the bench, so framed that it applies to other counties in Ohio, but not to Hamilton county.

Judge Gorman set the hearing on the motion for tomorrow morning. Thereupon the Cox attorneys attempted to gain further delay by filing an application in the Circuit Court for a temporary injunction to restrain Judge Gorman from hearing any part of the case pending a decision in the mandamus suit by which they sought to obtain a ruling as to whether Gorman could be sworn off the bench for alleged "bias and prejudice."

The injunction proceedings were brought before Judge Swing, who denied Cox before him to plead to the indictment of perjury.

WASHINGTON. March 20.—Forty-seven young army surgeons graduated here today from the army medical school. The young men were graduated two months ahead of time to permit their practical instruction at the mobilization of troops in Texas and California, where they have been or-

CINCINNATI. March 20.—Developments emanating directly from the charge of perjury against George B. Cox in the Common Pleas Court here, came fast today, and in each instance the attorneys for Cox came out second best, at least temporarily.

From the time Presiding Judge Hunt refused to act on an affidavit declaring Judge Frank Gorman "biased and prejudiced" until Judge Swing ended by refusing to grant an injunction against Judge Gorman's trying the case, there was not a quiet moment.

In handing down his decision, Judge Hunt said the statute providing for the filing of a writ of mandamus to swear a judge off the bench, so framed that it applies to other counties in Ohio, but not to Hamilton county.

Judge Gorman set the hearing on the motion for tomorrow morning. Thereupon the Cox attorneys attempted to gain further delay by filing an application in the Circuit Court for a temporary injunction to restrain

Judge Gorman from hearing any part of the case pending a decision in the mandamus suit by which they sought to obtain a ruling as to whether Gorman could be sworn off the bench for alleged "bias and prejudice."

The injunction proceedings were brought before Judge Swing, who denied Cox before him to plead to the indictment of perjury.

DEMOCRATS IN A DRUNKEN FRENZY STORM THE HOUSE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) March 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A Sunday debauch without a parallel in this little old State capital city which followed a rough-and-tumble fight on the floor of the House of Representatives yesterday ended last night when a mob, composed of inebriated Democrats from the House, stormed the Senate and forced it to adjourn.

The Democrats aroused commemoration of the humiliation of Jessie A. Watson, State Game and Fish Warden, who is a Republican, which was brought about by methods heretofore unknown in Missouri politics. The mob, which ran a few hours after the House adjourned at noon, and

Every Democrat who partakes of to do his full capacity, and many of the Democrats in the House consumed as much as they could carry.

JOHN BULL FOR ARBITRAL PLAN.

Cousins Believe Ideas of Mr. Taft Are Feasible.

Press Reflects Advantages of International Pact.

How Uncle Sam's Attitude in Revolt Is Regarded.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
LONDON, March 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sentiment in the United Kingdom is almost solid in backing up Mr. Edward Grey's virtual invitation to the United States to propose—in the language of Mr. Taft before the American Society for the Judicial Settlement of International Disputes—the enactment of a London-Washington treaty "to abide the adjudication of an international arbitral court in every issue that cannot be settled by arbitration."

Mr. Taft employed the phrase "some great nation" and Grey responds in Mr. Roosevelt's favorite ejaculation, "die-lighted." And the strongest arguments used to justify a serious attempt to make such a treaty now is the theory that the American Senate, which defeated the Olney-Pauncefote proposals in 1897 partly because of the Irish-American agitation, and the Senate then adhered to the same authority against the Executive and the State Department, would not have the former obstacle to overcome, inasmuch as all Irish-Americans are well-wishers of the Asquith-Grey administration.

DROPPED THE THREAD.

To carry out Mr. Taft's idea, it is argued, would be only to resume the negotiations of nearly eighteen years in which the London government has always been ready to sign and that recommended itself to Mr. Cleveland, the statesman who "challenged us with the Venezuelan message."

As a court of arbitral justice, suggested by Mr. Taft, would base its decisions, not upon compromise, but upon principles of law and equity, it would be, thinks a week-end review, "the most important and the most beneficial achievement of the twentieth century short of universal disarmament."

British feeling regarding the Mexican programme of Washington is decidedly less censorious than it was a week ago. The change for the better is due to a clear conception of the situation. Taft and to a generation of make-shift explanations of the mobilization.

It is pointed out that, if Mr. Taft had nothing more to expect than a fulfillment of the Diaz promise to bring about the sale of big haciendas and a distribution of large amounts of the Mexican public lands, the end would justify the means.

A prominent writer, who went through Mexico last summer, alleges that two-thirds of the country is held in the hands of the rich. That is to say, that the Mexican problem is an abuse of land tenure.

"That there is a serious probability of war with Mexico is a fact which cannot be denied," he says. "The Mexicans, unless the Mexicans wish to be swallowed alive."

AS BIG POLICEMAN.

In a well-drawn cartoon Mr. Taft, dressed in the uniform of an American policeman and swinging a stick bearing the letters "U.S.A.", is depicted as arresting traffic on a road crossing the Texas-Mexico border, and saying to a band of filibusters: "Can't you see I'm a policeman?" The cartoon is a line very familiar to the London cockney: "And a good job, too."

That the United States might be induced to lend its good offices in the Russo-Chinese conflict, under such conditions as would imperil American interests, is a view strongly held by important leaders of European opinion. It would be in line with President Taft's well-established habit of taking time by the forelock, thinks one of the best informed.

The situation along the disputed frontier, as well as in all Mongolia and Northern Manchuria, has an European end, great importance is attached to the interview at Vienna next Friday between William II and Francis Joseph.

If the meeting proves, as many expect, the occasion of a striking reaffirmation of the past between Berlin and Vienna, there is little doubt that the immediate effect will be to beget a more resolute tone on the part of Nichols in dealing with the Pekin agent.

In spite of the repudiation by London and Paris of the intimation by Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg that the German Emperor's recent policy of conciliation with the Central powers in the European situation to the benefit of Germany and disavowal of the triple entente, the fact is that it was not until after the visit of Nichols to Pottsdam that the Russian military party began to act throughout Asiatic Russia in the fashion so fearlessly denounced by Professor Mukhoff in the Duma.

They are to be solved to appear on the stage at the graduation exercises in costumes minus the usual equipment of rats, switches, corsets, and in fact every article designed to give the girls a slim, trim, attractive, as well as in all Mongolia and Northern Manchuria, has an European end, great importance is attached to the interview at Vienna next Friday between William II and Francis Joseph.

INDICTED FOR "COMPLIMENT."

Four Election Officials Get Our Extraordinary Vote for Retiring Judge and Investigation Follows.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
NEW ORLEANS, March 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Four election officials are under indictment here because of their unusual conception of what the age limit. There was but one candidate for the honor, Judge W. B. Sommer. An election was duly ordered.

"We've got to make a good showing," was the word sent out from headquarters of the "ring." "The vote must be a compliment to the judge."

So despite the fact that there was no contest, ward and precinct captains were busy rounding up voters, and the vote was highly satisfactory on its face.

"A deserved tribute," said the official organ. But the Good Government League, surprised at the big vote, began investigating. Its agents began in the Sixth precinct of the Third Ward.

"Did you vote for Judge Sommer?" they asked each man on the poll list. "It was not long before they found eight men who replied they had not voted in any election for years.

"You are on the list as having voted," they were told.

"That's nothing new," said some of them.

Indictments of the commissioners and clerks of the precincts followed today. Other precincts are being canvassed in the same way.

Gland at Base of Skull Holds Fluid That Contains Substance That Will Produce Growth.

LONDON, March 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Once more has a writer of romances anticipated the scientist, H. G. Wells's story, "The Food of the Gods," which produced a race of giants, seems to be in a fair way of being realized, according to Prof. Arthur Keith of the Royal College of Surgeons in a lecture today at the Royal Institution. The professor announced the belief that the secret of growth had been discovered. He said:

"So far, we have only unlocked the door of the unknown. We do not know exactly what the room will contain when we enter it. We think we have discovered that we have the means of regulating the size and stature of the body at will. Modern science has proved that the growth of a giant is due to diseased conditions. Recent discoveries relating to the cause of giantism have shown that the key to growth was found at the base of the skull in what is called the pituitary body."

"It is a little thing which would not fill a teacup, and was discovered by chance. In the pituitary gland are secreted a number of liquid substances which are deposited in the blood. Possibly at a future date, scientists may be able to extract that substance and add it to the feeding of a giant to make its growth go on continuously."

EMERSON DIVORCE SUIT APT TO BE QUIETED.

Wife of Baltimore Millionaire Files Answer to Complaint and Denies Charges of Infidelity—Gossip Busy With Reports of Amicable Settlement of Case.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
BALTIMORE (Md.), March 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Emeline Askew Emerson, through her attorneys, filed Saturday in the Circuit Court her answer to the divorce complaint of her husband, Capt. James E. Emerson, filed on January 18 last.

Mrs. Emerson denies absolutely the allegations made by Capt. Emerson in which Capt. Hazzard Bassett, a Baltimore business man and clubman, was mentioned as co-respondent. The answer declares the allegation that she has been guilty of misconduct with Bassett to be "a deliberate falsehood." It avers that Mrs. Emerson has always been an "affectionate, chaste, and dutiful wife" to the respondent.

Emerson, however, visited the Bassett home by the consent and permission of Capt. Emerson and that no improper relations existed between the defendant and the alleged respondent.

Emerson now has it that a compromise will be effected and that Capt. Emerson will make a financial settlement on his wife that will be satisfactory to her. This report, however, lacks official confirmation. The amount mentioned as a settlement to Mrs. Emerson would be $60,000 a year income or, in lieu of this, a lump sum of $60,000. Gossip has it that Capt. Emerson was willing to make an annual allowance of $20,000 to his wife. The Captain's income is reported to be from $300,000 to $500,000 a year.

UNIONITES SHOOT IN RIOT.

Chicago Teamsters' Factions Fight in Streets But Mob Dies at Approach of Police.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
CHICAGO, March 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Teamsters employed by the Arrow Transfer Company engaged in a riot this morning in which revolver shots were fired. Several windows in nearby buildings were broken and many of the men were injured. Police of the Maxwell Street station rushed a wagon full of reserves to the scene, but the mob had dispersed.

According to John Rogers, superintendent of the Arrow Transfer Company, his teamsters have been engaged in a discussion for the past week as to whether to affiliate with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters or the Chicago Teamsters Union.

Today a vote was taken on the proposition, and as soon as it was announced that the International Brotherhood was the choice of the members of the union, a scuffle ensued.

Revolver shots became frequent. According to C. F. Templeton, manager of the Arrow Transfer Company, secretary of the Team Owners' Association, who were witnesses to the battle, about half of the men had revolvers and were discharging them into the air.

Mr. Templeton telephoned the police at the Maxwell Street station. A wagon full of reserves were hastily called together and sent to the rescue but the riot had ended.

CHOLERA CHECKED IN HAWAII.

HONOLULU, March 20.—The cholera outbreak here is officially declared to be ended, but quarantine and other precautionary measures will be continued until the sanitary work for which the Legislature has appropriated is completed. There were twenty-seven cases of cholera in the present outbreak, of which twenty-one proved fatal.

The Postoffice Department is to experiment with the installation of mail boxes in street cars. When they are installed there will be no excuse for street car travelers who bring home the letters which they are com-

FOURTEEN BABES NOT ENOUGH.

Kansas Mother Who Has Rared That Many Children Asks for Another and Gets It.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
KANSAS CITY, March 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Why should the mother of fourteen children seek to adopt another? That was the question that puzzled Robert Maloney, superintendent of the Kansas City, district of the Home-Finding Society.

With this mother, who lives in Clay Center, Kan., wrote to the superintendent, she was nothing about the other children. She gave references. Maloney sent to the police and the sheriff to see the adoption of the other children. The mother, Mrs. Thompson, a widow, and the infant, a girl, were to be given to the woman at Clay Center, who wanted to adopt a child to let upon the exposition floor and a large party of Imperial Valley boosters are expected to arrive this forenoon. With them will be W. H. Holabird, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holabird, C. W. East and W. F. Holt, prominent residents of that part of Southern California. Special attractions will be arranged for their entertainment.

Long Beach day is to be celebrated tomorrow. The delegation that will come from there will bring with them their famous Long Beach bands of forty pieces, under the direction of E. Willey, and when it is stated that the musical program will consist of the band played—alternately by the Long Beach and Catalina Islands, those who are planning to attend the exposition that day may look forward to a treat. Tomorrow night will be the society night and Chairman M. W. Fink of the executive committee has asked Mrs. Randolph H. Minto to take personal charge of the evening. Los Angeles society people and those of nearby cities and towns have indicated their intention of attending and the time has come when the evening will be made the time for one of the most brilliant assemblages that has ever taken place in the city. Extraordinary music will be provided by the great bands that will take on much of the atmosphere of a交響樂團.

Another special day of the exposition will be March 23, when the auditions will be given over to residents of Cahuenga Valley and Crescent Bay, Ocean Park, Venice, Hollywood, Colorado, and other cities. The purpose of the evening is to be represented by large delegations.

The show is open each day from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night, and here at the Shrine Auditorium is reached by a West Jefferson street car.

KERN BOOSTERS BY HUNDREDS COMING.

BAKERSFIELD, March 20—Kern County, which is one of the few counties of the central and northern parts of the State to make a special exhibit at the Land and Products Exposition at Los Angeles, is planning to make the most of this opportunity to attract home-seekers. March 23 will be Kern county day at the exposition and that means the special train will arrive from Bakersfield bearing 200 to 300 Kern county boosters.

The Kern county delegation will tour the city in street cars decked with appropriate banners, a stereopticon lecturer, pictures of the resources of the county and its industries to settle the point where they will refuse to support a member of their own party because they do not enjoy the manner in which he has conducted himself.

"When they talk about this man being their friend and that man being their enemy, they announce to the public that the enfranchisement of women would introduce peace into politics."

"It is manifestly absurd for women to imagine that all legislators will vote exactly as the ladies would like to have them, and it is equally absurd for them to attempt to keep out of office every man who cannot win their complete favor. It may come to the point where they will refuse to support a member of their own party because they do not enjoy the manner in which he has conducted himself."

"When they talk about this man being their friend and that man being their enemy, they announce to the public that the enfranchisement of women would introduce peace into politics."

"The pleasure of the association yesterday morning to hear a clever address by Miss R. B. Martin, a woman journalist who has made a reputation for free lance work in many of the larger cities of this country. Miss Martin told them that Kate Bernard, the most influential woman in Oklahoma, had demonstrated that a woman can have great power in State affairs and still keep herself out of the mire of practical politics. Mrs. Bernard is one of the greatest personalities of her State, but she is strongly opposed to political equality."

Miss Martin disclosed another popular fallacy when she said that the suffragists have announced that all of the women interested in New York settlement work are for suffrage, whereas, it is a matter of record that the first woman who addressed the Judiciary Committee of New York's Legislature against suffrage are not only women who are noted for their philanthropy, but who are also noted as settlement workers.

At the home of Mrs. J. B. Banning at the Banning and Westland streets, Miss Martin will again speak to the women opposed to suffrage Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, and all ladies who are interested in hearing her will be welcome.

PROPERTY OWNERS Adopt Resolution in Mass Meeting Calling on City Council to Fulfill Promises.

A largely attended meeting of property owners, who are demanding a tunnel on Hill street from First to Temple streets, was held in Temperance, Temple, Broadway and Temple streets, last night. Councilmen of the Board of Public Works were also present and took part in the discussion.

A resolution was adopted calling on the City Council to carry out its agreement to pay its share toward a partition wall to the proposed tunnel; eliminate from the assessment district property included in the assessment for improvement of the Sunset Hill area to the district the territory embraced by Oliver, Hope, Temple and Fourth streets, and to take preliminary steps to start the construction of the tunnel.

Ball of Muse, Paris, Walker Company Such a Happy Affair That Annual Repetition is Planned.

The employees of the Muse, Paris, Walker Company held their annual ball at Kramer's Saturday night. It was a jolly affair and heartily entered into by all present. One could scarcely recognize in the gay couples the sober and industrious employees of the Los Angeles large stores.

Things were set in motion soon after Mr. Walker, who led the grand march with Mrs. Walker, at the conclusion of which he and just before the regular numbers began, Mr. Campbell, actor for the Muse, advanced in a short and appropriate address the appreciation of the firm's generosity in affording them such a pleasant evening.

The speaker intimated that the host of the literature in circulation against suffrage emanates from Wall street inspired attorneys, and she said that it seems strange to her that two or three brilliant women of the country should be dependent on the mercenary.

The hall was handsomely decorated with asparagus ferns and pink and green ribbon. A large shield—the emblem of the store—occupied almost the entire south end of the hall. On it in large letters was the expression "We're here to help" and beneath it the slogan of suffrage in a large part of the State. She concluded that men have done very well as statesmen, but said that it is the desire of the women to help them do better.

MEDICAL BILL KILLED.

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The bill of Dr. E. M. Butler, Assemblyman from Los Angeles, forbidding the advertising of any medical remedy by the use of symptoms or pictures of persons afflicted or in pain, was eliminated from further consideration this afternoon when the Assembly refused to reconsider it by a vote of 34 to 32. Dr. Butler pleaded for it and denied that it was a medical trust measure, and even demanded a call of the Assembly to bring the bill back. The bill was introduced for the purpose only to prevent the advertising of proprietary medicines and met protest from all over the State.

Women's Privileges and Men's.

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—To the Editor of The Times: Mrs. E. A. Kelley's letter in your issue of today under the caption "Privileges for Men" is timely and illuminating! Yes, certainly, why not "prohibit women and non-smokers from riding on the front end of riding on the front end of the car"! Ridiculous, I know, but the world is full of such.

Mr. Kelley, who addressed the Legislature against suffrage are not only women who are noted for their philanthropy, but who are also noted as settlement workers.

oy Falls in Pit and Remains Four Hours.

See of The Times, 228 Raymond Avenue.)

PASADENA, March 21.—Things still took a slight turn for the worse yesterday. The dark clouds began to gather about the horizon which indicate there is a storm brewing. The clouds came in a flat denial by Mr. Raymond, who has ever attempted to hush up with the selected party another statement by Metcalfe's campaign committee that both Root and Easterbrook have been excluded in the ranks of that party by the declaration of Rhodes leaves Metcalfe forces in a predicament, because he is the only legitimate candidate to be placed on the official ballot.

Councilman-at-large. During campaign preceding the straw man, Rhodes apparently sailed the flag of neutrality and was easily supported by both parties. He comes out flat-footed and says the straw man is "dynastic-the-cowboy man and will live or die with him." Dr. Scherer was just at the time he stated that Thum is the other of the two candidates for Mayor.

Rhodes' statement is a sore of a public blow for the Metcalfe folks, but they are still keeping their faces to the noon-day sun and waiting to see what the wind will bring. They are not yet come out in favor of councilman-at-large who will run independent of the official ballot. However, Rhodes states that he feels perfectly secure in his position and nothing can prevent his election.

It is different in the Fifth Ward where Root and Easterbrook are operating each other in the councilmanic race. Root expects to be elected to the position which he has held for ten years. He is laying his卵 on eggs and pointing to his past record.

Easterbrook states positively that if the promises of his friends mean anything, that he will be elected to the overburdened office of councilman-at-large who will run independent of the official ballot. However, Rhodes states that he feels perfectly secure in his position and nothing can prevent his election.

WILL ENTERTAIN BIG CROWD.

Thursday and Friday of this week Pasadena will entertain a big crowd of Sunday-school workers. It will be the annual convention of the Los Angeles County Sunday-school Association at the Hotel Greenway.

However, the other five sites were received, and will be placed on the official ballot. The election will occur on Friday of this week, and it is generally agreed that, this time, the bonds will carry, although there is considerable objection to different cards in the city among the elements, which is "turning" bonds of any kind or class.

FAVORS WOOL TARIFF.

William M. Wood of Boston, president of the American Woolen Company, arrived at the Hotel Greenway yesterday afternoon for a short stay. He states that the present tariff on wool is absolutely necessary to keep the woolen mills of this country working and to stimulate the growing of sheep in this country.

WILL CHANGE POSTOFFICE.

South Pasadenaans Are on the Verge of a Controversy Over Its Location.

SOUTH PASADENA, March 20.—A movement has been started here for a change in the location of the post-office. The suggestions and some action already taken by the residents near Fair Oaks avenue will be the cause of the big fight. Residents near the Short Line complain that the present office is too far away for their convenience, and they want the office moved to the city's business center. The Metcalfe party has backed no one in the running in North Pasadena, and probably will not do so, as it is generally understood, however, that the Metcalfe party will turn to Easterbrook as the suitable man of the two for the job. Easterbrook's views regarding the water-light are very similar to the Metcalfe platform.

At the meeting of the Thum boosters last night P. H. Shutt, candidate for councilman-at-large, was openly in favor of Thum for Mayor. His opponent, W. T. Daniels, after a speech from him, said: "Thus the fight for Councilman on that ward will be fought out on the same lines as the fight for Mayor. But I claim the majority of the labor and a good portion of the non-labor vote will be with Daniels, claiming the scholars' and church vote."

SUPPLIES UNTOLD COMPANY.

Imprisoned by the cold, foul-smelling air of an abandoned cesspool, Francis Tucker, a pretty little curly-haired, down-eyed boy of 5 years, suffered agony for four long, weary hours last night. Little Francis is the son of Charles V. Tucker, who was out yesterday afternoon he was out the yard playing. Suddenly he disappeared and the boy's mother could not find him. The little boy was yelling his loudest from the cold floor, but the other frantic ones did not hear.

Coming frantic over the disappearance of her little boy, the mother rushed for the father and together they started a general search for the child. The entire neighborhood was ransacked, and a general hunt started.

Police of Pasadena were notified and they, too, started on the hunt.

Finally, about 9 o'clock, some one happened to pass near the old discarded suitcases and the frantic ones heard the child, who had cried himself to sleep trying to make some one hear him. Kindly hands soon rescued him from his awful prison and he was quickly restored to his mother.

BID FOR HAVING PRISON.

The Young Construction Company, Los Angeles, has agreed to submit the bid for the building of the proposed Foothill Bridge at the foot of east Colorado street which will form a part of the bridge which the Council can proceed in a preliminary detail for calling a election. The movement to the people to bond the city for half the cost of the bridge. It is believed that a bid will be received and read at the Council meeting this morning the ordinance for calling a special election, which may be introduced for reading.

Time is a consideration in the matter because Mayor Earley and the council are very anxious to have the special bond election over during the term of office of Mayor Earley and, at least, two of the Councilmen now in office. The ordinance must be effective thirty days before the election, therefore, the ordinance will be introduced either tomorrow at a special Council meeting to be held within three days in order to have the election before May 1 when the new city officials take the oath of office.

The proposed bond issue for the bridge is receiving much favorable encouragement from all sides and particularly from the owners of automobiles and motorcycles who appreciate the value of the bridge to the travel public. The benefits of the county highways have been thoroughly demonstrated this year by visitors who have spent the winter in Pasadena and to take advantage of the entrance to the bridge. The bridge is a necessity to connect up the beautiful Foothill Boulevard, which will be completed within the next six months and make the boulevard from San Bernardino to San Martin the beautiful drive that it is advertised. ### SHOW COMING.

Notwithstanding the objection which has been made by the people before the Council to the presentation in this city of "The Girl from Rector's," the play will be staged at the Loring Wednesday evening unless some drastic action is taken on the part of the city authorities to prevent it.

Manager Nye of the Loring, follow-

WADING POOLS.

FOR THREE PLAYGROUNDS.

The Board of Public Works yesterday adopted plans and specifications for the construction of wading pools at the Violet, Glendale, and Echo Park playgrounds.

The pools will be twenty-feet in diameter, deep enough to permit the children to wade in the water, and will be made ornaments to several playgrounds. They will be constructed with cement beds, ornamented with stone beds, and vine-covered porches on the beds, and it is anticipated that they will be beneficial and attractive to the children. The estimated cost is $22,000, which amount was provided in the annual budget, and the council will be asked to lay to order advertisement for bids.

solely responsible, he says, for the excess of building contracts. The matter is now before the City Council.

Owing to the inability of the aqueduct department to secure a sufficient number of laborers from this section of the State, by its offer to refund the amount paid for railroad fare after men have worked for sixty days, the Board of Public Works yesterday executed the offer to men in San Fran-men are wanted at once for the concrete gangs, and others from time to Quincha divisions.

The pay is 50 cents a day, and board costs

the same.

Westmoreland Place

"The Beauty Spot of Los Angeles"

COMPARE WESTMORELAND PLACE

With any other residence section of Los Angeles, however exclusive or pretentious it may be, and draw your own conclusions. You will find that Westmoreland place has many advantages in its favor; location, accessibility, elevation, environment. The improvements all are superlatively high-class. Imposing gateway entrances. Magnificent driveways. Unusually broad walks and parkings, bordered with semi-tropical plants and rare flowers. The view from Westmoreland place is inspiring. Nature and art are combined in a harmonious whole—making it "The Beauty Spot of Los Angeles."

Lots Are $125 and $150 a Front Foot

Inside lots desirably located, as low as $125 a front foot. Corners as low as $150 a front foot. All lots are 100x200 feet—but additional frontage may be had if desired. While building restrictions permit of residences costing as little as Fifteen thousand dollars, most of the homes at present in Westmoreland Place represent expenditures of from Thirty to Sixty Thousand dollars, irrespective of the grounds they occupy.

The Broadway Lighting System, which is being extended down Main street and out Pico, past Westmoreland Place, will provide a perfectly lighted route to and from the city.

IMPORTANT SALE IN WESTMORELAND PLACE

J. H. Carr, a wealthy property owner of Los Angeles, bought last week lot 43 and north half of lot 45, size 150x200, in the Westmoreland Place, and will begin at once the erection of a residence to cost between $30,000.00 and $40,000.00.

Mr. Carr is an old resident of Los Angeles, having been identified with the real estate and business interests of the city for more than a quarter of a century.

This is the second sale which has been made in the Westmoreland Place within the past ten days.

No better evidence could be asked as showing the prosperous condition of the real estate market than the transfers of high-class residence property, such as that of Westmoreland Place.

E. IS NOT WISE.

A Kansas university professor predicts the day when there will be no blonde in America. For a college man this chap's ignorance overwhelms us. Any time an American girl wants to be a blonde she will be one as long as peroxide and hair dyes are manufactured.

DEIREQUISITES?

The pure food laws must be enforced, of course, but there is no excuse for a sleuth who discovers a fly-speck in the showcase in the grocery store to take a gallon of milk; two boxes of cigars, four pounds of candy and a large box of fancy raisins as an exhibit. They never go back.

DOUBLE THE WATCH.

There are indications that the baffled incite conspirators who have exhausted the devious methods of picketing and politics in their vain campaign to throttle the industries of Los Angeles have plotted to make use of the torch as a means of intimidation of what they call "big business." Once more The Times advises the owners of large properties in the mercantile and manufacturing districts to double the watch.

CONSERVATION BOILED DOWN.

In order to prevent coal lands and oil lands from being absorbed by capitalists who might make a large profit by developing them and selling fuel and coal oil at high prices to the present generation, Pincophilic conservation proposes to withdraw them from appropriation and sale altogether and hold them for the use of future generations.

If a householder wants fuel and light now it does not seem to make much difference to him whether he cannot get them because the Guggenheims ask a prohibitive price for them or because the government holds them out for the benefit of his grandchildren. In either event he shivers for lack of fuel and sits in the dark for want of light.

E. GAME.

From his deathbed at Cleveland Tom Johnson, the man who secured 8-cent car fares for his city, advised his sons to be "game." This advice goes far deeper than it sounds. To be game means to stick to purpose. It means to fix the attention and the will upon something worth while and to let nothing under the sun prevent us from fighting for the end we adopt. The world is strewn with failures because so few persons have one clear purpose in life. The man who has something to live for has the will to live in the face of every emergency. Only the man who lives to some worthy end can understand Tom Johnson's advice to be "game."

WEALTH AND POWER.

Wealth is not all-powerful. What Dickens called "the old, old fashion of death" rules rich and poor alike. Wealth could not keep Vanderbilt out of the grave or A. T. Stewart in it. And what is power? The czar of Russia, with all his power, was murdered by a nihilist's bomb; and Napoleon, in spite of his power, spent the last years of his life on St. Helena quarreling with Sir Hudson Lowe as to the number of clean sheets he should be allowed per week.

It is idle to talk of absolute power while we are encased in this vulnerable flesh and blood. It may be ours when, free from the limitations of time and space, we can talk at will with the mound builders or with the immortal 300 who fell at Thermopylae; or again, by way of an outing, we can pitch tents from some celestial battlement and visit saturn with his rings or fly from tip to tip of the horns of the constellation Taurus, but here both wealth and power are limited by environments.

UFFALO BILL FOR SENATOR.

Let Mark Smith and Morris Goldwater and the 100 lot of ex-Confederate colonels who have covetous eyes on an Arizona toga devote their efforts to upholstering back seats in the Democratic wigwam, for Buffalo Bill has bought him a tepee in Tucson and stocked it with the best quality of spirituous ferment and invited all the old-timers and all the new-timers who may, can, will or shall be members of the first Legislature to come and stamp with one of the first Senators from the cactus state.

Well, why not? As a Hibernian friend remarked, "He's just as good as the next crowd and a damned sight better." He can sit on a bucking bronco and shoot glass balls from his back. He can lariat and tie a steer. He can run a circus and greatest qualification of all in the eyes of a Democratic legislator, he can write a check. Do you hear that, men and brethren, he can write a check—and the check will be paid.

The political play, "The Senatorship," has entered upon the tenth week of its engagement at Albany, N. Y., breaking all records. The topical song written by Charley Murphy will soon be on the programme of the "ten-twenty-thirtieth" houses.

In China parents pay so little attention to the girls in the family that they are known by numbers, and not by names. We think the suffragettes of Los Angeles would make a hit by beginning their work of education in China.

The showing of the assets of Southern California is a continuous performance. The Pacific Land and Products Exposition has now thrown open its doors and every display has the mark, "made in California."

William Jennings Bryan is lecturing and turning them away. But the trouble is the dear people do not vote as they listen.

A WORD OF SYMPATHY.

The merchants of Bakersfield and the lumber dealers of Oakland and San Francisco, who have enlisted, body and soul, in the righteous cause of industrial freedom, have the sympathy and moral support of the great body of the men and women of Los Angeles. Brethren, you are flying the right flag—stand by it! This is the message flashed by the Queen City of the South to the northern communities struggling to emulate the example of Los Angeles and to escape from the blighting thralldom of lawless labor-unionism. No man with a drop of genuine American blood in his veins can read of the outrages perpetrated on non-union workingmen in these northern communities—men whose only offenses are that they will work and won't join a secret society—without being stirred by hot resentment, without a burning desire to help forward the crusade for liberty and law which these merchants and manufacturers are leading. On, brave men, on! The God of Battles is with you. A few more lumber mills, iron foundries and industrial establishments may be attacked with bombs; a few more innocent men may be killed or maimed; but the principle of freedom will triumph and coming generations will bless those who fought the fight and won the day. Tyranny cannot survive in America. Bloodshed cannot sustain it. The wiles of politicians cannot keep it alive!

INNOCENT PARIS.

For many years the proverb has been extant that Americans go to Paris to be bad; the gentlemen as bad as they can, the ladies as bad as their dare. The impression has prevailed that if one felt it to be really necessary to fracture one or more of the Ten Commandments the place of places to do the violating of the laws that were given to the world from the summit of Sinai is Paris, for there the standard of morality is elastic; there the conscience is limbered up, so to speak, by the contiguity of others holding views that would not be tolerated in the rigidly moral atmosphere of Boston or of Fresno.

The tourist who would be ashamed to attend a "biley" in Los Angeles, or go slumming in Tucson, or "make the rounds" in bad Little Reno does not hesitate, while in Paris to "tempt the raging flood" of classical immorality by riding out the Boulevard San Michel to the cloisures de l'île, where, for 2 francs, he can see 500 French ladies kick the hats from the heads of 500 French gentlemen to the inspiring music of the cancan.

And now another delusion is gone. First the geographers remorselessly removed the maelstrom from the coast of Norway and showed that it was only a temporary meeting of tidal currents that would not act as a sucker to a fishing boat, let alone the great blues that we had been instructed were drawn down into its depths. Next the transcontinental railroads kicked the great American desert off the maps and over the Sierras into the Pacific Ocean. There we were told that George Washington never owned a hatchet, and that there was no sherry tree at Mount Vernon. Lastly there were published documents proving that the real name of Columbus was O'Reilly, that he was mate on a Greek pirate ship and got his American charts from a Turkish captain whom he murdered.

One by one the heroes of history and the myths of literature have vanished, and now comes a distinguished ecclesiastic ex-jeep Monsignor Bolo—may the devil fly away with him for a sacerdotal and iconoclastic knave—and states that the modest maidens, and shrieking matrons, and weeping widows of Paris have been lured from the pedestals of modest innocence on which they were accustomed to pose, by the example of flirtations, coquettish, free and easy mannered American girls, who have transformed moral, puritanical, righteous Paris from a nubby into a gayety garden.

The Paris girls, according to Father Bolo, have stopped sewing with their mothers, have ceased to embroider slippers for their fathers, have discontinued reading breviaries and singing Ave Marias, and instead they pursue the Decameron of Boccaccio, they anoint their eyelids with belladonna and their lips with henna, they baptize their crowns of glory with peroxide of hydrogen, they parade the boulevards without chaperones, and they allow American art and medical students to wink at them without rebuke.

Whether this decay of girlish French innocence, this frightful demoralization of Paris maidenhood and wifehood and widowhood can be checked by the United States levying an export duty on American girls—and some American widows who are booked for Paris; whether it can be discontinued by forbidding our fair countrywomen from poisoning the morals of Frenchwomen with their contaminating example, is not suggested. The social malady has already gone so far that Monsignor Bolo publicly asserts that French girls about to marry have nothing to learn—in which particular it may be suggested they probably resemble French young men.

O tempora! O mores!

MARRIAGE COMMISSIONERS.

There is one commission that the Lissnerki-Vietnam-Johnson Legislature has neglected to create. A State marriage board, with power to establish subsidiary boards in each county, would yield large pecuniary results, in the way of fees to a number of appointees and would elevate the marriage relation to a beautiful moral altitude that would put divorce courts out of business.

Each local board could be made to consist of a physician, a clergymen—or other distinguished moral teacher (such as a newspaper editor) and the two prospective mothers-in-law.

The concurrence of three members of the board should be required in order to entitle the applicants to a license. A fee of $5 for each member of the board should be required to be paid by the intending bridegroom. This would be no hardship, for, unless he has $20 to spare, he has no business to contemplate matrimony.

The examination should be conducted on both esoteric and exoteric lines. Raphael Hythlodaeus, the returned voyager in Sir Thomas More's romance, declared that in

• "Lest We Forget."

SONGSTER OF THE SIERRAS.

BY TOM PITCH.

Almost he climbed the golden ladder. One foot was on the first rung and the other was lifted from the earth when Gabriel cried, "Not ready for you yet, old post. Go back and write again and match your poem on Columbus—if you can."

The old things have become new again. It is nearly forty years since one evening in the deep twilight, before the "lights" were on, a tall, slender, fair young man came in unannounced to my home, and through the open doorway, stood and, with a very good evening, turned his back to the glancing light and, resting easily upon one leg, quietly took a survey of the apartments.

The picture, as he stood there, was one never to be forgotten. It was like a writhing in the gloaming. In all the years that have come between no mere spectacle has left the same ineffaceable stamp upon the memory. His hair and beard were of a tawny golden hue, which seemed braided in and out with the flickering light. The soft locks falling in rings low down upon his white neck curled at the ends like a handful of tropical plumage. A full knot of soft silken stuff in warm cardinal red beneath the low collar gave tone to a dark, fury-looking suit, which terminated in boots with fair leather tops, into which the trousers had been crowded, either in haste or with an indifference to neatness of effect. Under one arm was thrust a soft, wide-brimmed hat and upon the other was resting, a little apologetically, a superb and luxurious fury coat, with bright linings. He might have been posing there as a model for the Chevalier Bayard or the chief of the Texas rangers; for the "Old" or Caesar de Basan. His attitude and air might have dictated any character of history or tradition. But he was neither one nor any of them; he was a poet, sent straight from heaven.

It is a concession not freely made by the disciples of modern thought that understanding between man and man demands converse, material and objective communion, while the soul of man which comprises all there is of excellence and essence, remains unbroken and unrevealed, to the other. Why should genius transmortal in itself be relegated to the coarse process of material contact for recognition and assimilation? In plainer words, why should spirit not communicate with spirit, leaving the bodies to go their way, bidding each other good morning and good night with the "pillar of light" between?

But not so, for we are of earth. The soul is subject to the body, intuition to sense, the inner to the outer, the higher to the lower. Time and distance, those couriers of fate, have now broadcast our lives. They may have encountered one another many times on fields unknown by earthly eye, but of what avail if they do not know? Thought here with the poet when given expression is individual. One may be not the music of Wagner as much as created in the pignments of actual nature at the dawn of light? Did ever two poets write in the same key, and does not the key of the mystery and deliver the meaning of the conception in any form of art? Who that has read a song of Joaquin Miller does not feel that the tonic note of it is nature?

With little heart or love for the undertaking, he tried the ways of human experiences. He dipped into books and they repelled him. He tried consort with men and they dragged him into their haunts and away from his palace among the clouds. He learned the lessons of worldly wisdom and found himself a dolt. Conformity to social fashions paralyzed his powers and fixed the head of Medusa upon the form of his beautiful muse. Wherefore he came back and buried his head confidingly in the ample bosom of his first dear love, Nature.

Why attempt to adjust the poet to the man? Cannot the world afford to be magnanimous to one such genius as this whom we know by a name? He is not a rival of any living man. We have talent embodied all around us. It is good, perhaps better than genius, but it is not natural.

The heart of the poet beats in every element—not merely he sees and examines the rocks and trees, the variable waters and the glittering peaks; not merely he hears the plaintive wind and the rolling pines.

With them, nay, in them he rejoices and weeps, and shines and aspires and thunders.

TWICE-TOLD STORIES.

Taff's Original Poem.

"President Taft is not usually spoken of as a witty man," said Capt. Case, formerly of the Second Oregon Regiment, and at one time city engineer of Manila. "But I once heard him, when he was Governor-General of the Philippines, make a pun that I thought was particularly good. A party of officials was having a lunch ride on the Pasig River one evening. Most of the elderly folks were in the stern of the boat, while up forward a crowd of younger people centered about two charming girls who were serving tea. Among them was the Governor, enjoying himself as much as anyone.

"He was missed among those in the stern, and Capt. Butt was sent forward to bring him back. The military man said, "Governor, why aren't you aft with the old girls?"

"Holding up his teacup as explanation, the Governor replied, "I should be aft, if it were not for T." —[Portland Oregonian.]

No End to Them.

Not long ago Representative "Billy" Hughes of New Jersey was in Washington showing a party of his constituents the sights of the capital. In the group was a provincial old lady who seemed obsessed with the idea that New York and New Jersey made up most of the United States and got out all the laws. In the corridors of the War Department the party ran across a tall, tawny-haired man.

"Who is that?" queried the old lady.

"That's Bartlett of Nevada," explained Hughes. "Congressman Bartlett."

"Goodness gracious!" she said. "You've em' from everywhere, don't you?" —[Popular Magazine.]

Advice for Employees.

It is told of President John F. Stevens of the Hill system in Oregon that when he was employed on the Burlington a nephew applied for a job. Mr. Stevens accommodated him by getting a place for him on the Great Northern. After the nephew had worked a year he came to his uncle and remarked,

"Uncle John, this railroad game is a hard one and I wish you would give me a little advice on how to rise in the profession."

"Well," said Mr. Stevens, "it is this way:

If there is a clock in your office, set it to the hour of 7 o'clock.

Change your desk around and put your back to the clock.

little. All they seem to do now is to twist their respective arms around the back of their respective necks and throw the ball out in front of them. All they get for this is about $600 a month and they might be able to earn a fair salary if they knew as much as Walsh thinks he knows.

Lighting a Wrong.

The race track owners around New York are mad now and declare they will not open their places until the new anti-gambling laws have been "righted" by the track stewards. They might open with a clearer conscience if they would pass some of themselves "righted," whatever that means.

Despite His Absence.

Jim Flynn has been away from the city now for six or eight months and I observe that the house committee is issuing more building permits each week than ever before. Funny how business keeps up, ain't it?

Poor Little Abe.

Johnny Coulon has been matched to fight Abe Attell in New Orleans next month. Guess this must have been done by some fellow up in San Francisco who wanted to have Abe's block knocked off.

Too Much Competition.

Certain officials at Hot Springs have suddenly discovered that they will not allow Sunday baseball at the mortuary. Doubtless some figure that no baseball team have any right to go into that tobacco town and draw patronage away from the gambling games. Hurts business, you know.

There're All Leaders.

You're going to hand it to the automobile association for there isn't a machine that I ever heard of that hasn't broken some kind of a record. Those are something like the girls you read about in the society columns of the daily papers. There have probably been 25,000,000 marriages in this country since I learned to read and EVERY TIME THE BRIDE IS "A charming leader in the younger social set." God knows how the followers ever get married off. I guess they become despondent and turn into suffragettes and Prohibitionists.

EDLANDS DROPS ANOTHER MATCH

Local Scores Go Against Foothills Players.

Predictions of Standing After Final Rounds.

Rector Returns to Field After Long Absence.

BY WILLIAM FREDERICKSON.

Redlands Country Club lost all chances for winning the prize cup in an inter-club team competition when a team of seven golfers was defeated yesterday afternoon by the Annandale Country Club team on Annandale's links.

Not one man on the visiting team was able to score a victory, although they carried their matches to the last hole.

It has been an unfortunate series for the Redlands team. Out of the three matches played with Los Angeles, San Gabriel and Annandale, the team was won, while its rivals, the Victoria team of Riverside, will bring home one scalp, that of the San Gabriel team.

E. N. Wright, runner-up in the southern California championship, had a hard time with the Redlands, one of the pluckiest players who ever swung a golf stick, winning by the narrow margin of 1 up.

Harold Wren, Annandale club captain, had equal difficulty in his match from M. S. Phillips of Redlands, the match going to the last hole of the course. Mr. Phillips has developed a fine game in the last year and is destined to become one of the best in Southern California.

Hugo Johnstone and Raymond Hornby, Redlands captain were matched, and Johnstone, who has just experienced a slump in his game, recovered his old-time form and defeated his opponent rather easily by 6 up, 4 down.

Following are the results of the individual matches: Hugo Johnstone, Annandale, beat Raymond Hornby, Redlands, 6 up, 4 to play; E. S. Armstrong, Annandale, beat W. W. Redlands, 5 up, 3 to play; E. W. Wright, Annandale, beat M. E. Ginn, Redlands, 1 up; Harold Wren, Annandale, beat M. S. Phillips, Redlands, 1 up; A. H. Gray, Annandale, beat W. Miller, Redlands, 3 up; E. S. Byington, Annandale, beat W. C. O'Connor, Redlands, 4 up, 2 to play; J. V. Elliot, Annandale, beat A. C. Denman, Jr., Redlands, 8 up, 6 to play.

TEAM STANDING.

The standing of the five teams in the competition at present is as follows: Los Angeles, won 5, lost 0; Annandale, won 5, lost 1; Riverside, won 5, lost 2; Redlands, won 1, lost 5; San Gabriel, won 1, lost 7.

It appears now that the matches which Los Angeles and Annandale will have on the Redlands and Riverside links will decide the final result and each of the local clubs is hoping to match with one of the others and each is trusting not to suffer worse than the other at the hands of the teams at the upper end of the valley. It is possible still to have a triple tie in the end also, for Riverside has lost but two games and may win all three of its remaining matches.

It is highly probable, however, that Riverside will lose its match with Redlands at Redlands yet to be played, and it is not altogether likely that Los Angeles and Annandale each will have much trouble Redlands and Riverside. In the event of a tie, it will have to be played off on some neutral course.

The Redlands Country Club will hold its annual spring open tournament beginning Monday, April 2. The entire week will be crowded with events of every description for women as well as men golfers, and many handsome trophies have been being up.

Ray Hornby, who has been directing the tournament affairs, is receiving entries and they have been coming in rapidly from Riverside, Los Angeles, Annandale and San Gabriel. A large number of local people are arriving to participate in several matches of the Los Angeles team, will be there and receive valuable practice for the team match which will be played April 8.

The Redlands course is reported to be in first-class condition and offers will be assured a splendid week of sport.

TRIP POSTPONED.

Local golfers had expected to visit Santa Catalina Island this week for the annual spring tournament and outing there but, on account of the numerous local events and the near opening of the new Los Angeles County Club course, have decided to postpone the round trip until later in the season.

Maude Adams in "Chantecler."

Charles Frohman's production of Rostand's poetic and allegorical drama is accounted a commercial failure. It was an enormous and costly undertaking, and critical opinion is divided as to the real merit of the work. Possibly the fairest and without doubt the most brilliant criticism in this country was written by Channing Pollock, who says: "Chantecler is a little journey to the heart of a great poet. Since Victor Hugo, no other poet has been as big as Edmond Rostand. Maeterlinck, Hauptmann, Berrie have been content to skim the surface of life, leaving to him the transmutation of its innermost and nethermost meanings. He has chosen the barnyard because no other place so lent itself to his

BALDY RACE TO BE HELD.

Fenner to Enter Isotta Car Which Is on Way.

Ruess Says He Will Dictate Terms of Contest.

One Thousand Dollars to Be Big Entrance Fee.

There is to be an automobile race to the summit of North Baldy this year. F. C. Fenner settled the question yesterday. He will start a 120 horse power Isotta-Fraschini, one of the fastest cars on earth, a racing motor that has broken world records.

Thousands of dollars must be spent on the Baldy road to put it in shape. Fenner started a gang of men working on the course yesterday. It will be ready in plenty of time to practice.

William R. Ruess, winner of the last Baldy race, demands an entrance fee of $1000. He will enter the Pope-Hartford that won the free-for-all in the Panama-Pacific road race, and will drive the car himself.

That Baldy race will be run this year and I will enter and win. It's my race and the cup belongs on my shelf. Take it from me I'll win with a car that will show speed these fellows have never seen before. I'll break all records to the mine.

The above statement was made by "Col." F. C. Fenner, owner of the North Baldy mine, yesterday. He is prepared to enter a 120 horse power Isotta-Fraschini car which is on the way from the factory in Italy.

Ten men are working on the Baldy course, building the road to the gold mine on the hill. Wagons have made the Baldy roads impassable.

This race is to be run the third Sunday in September, if Fenner has his way. He will start against one or a team of drivers.

Remarkable for its remarkable "Boat dive," which is an excellent exercise for the legs and for general daily exercise of the body, consisting in extending the hands as high as possible without relaxing them and while holding the body in a position to touch the floor. Practice enables one to do this with great rapidity, thus accelerating the breathing.

New Occupations.

Since it begins to look as though there were not enough professions to go around among the women who either go into business or who select to do so, new ones are constantly being discovered.

One of the really desirable occupations of which I recently heard is that of professional visiting gardeners. The woman who invents it will be popular botany in any Eastern school. Her health failed and she was told by her physician that she must lead an outdoor life. She secured a small suburban place where she could raise shrubs and flowers and then she made arrangements to visit and care for other people's gardens. She planned landscape effects, supplied the needed material for carrying them out and in many instances became responsible for the entire success for her plans, chargeing a fee which was never less than $100. When a woman who was at a loss in purchasing for others, who can clothe their families properly and inexpensively, for the same reason but who, when it comes to buying for themselves are completely at a loss. A few words from the style expert will be of great benefit to such.

Saving for the Home.

The housekeeper can add her quota to the household finances, even though she make no stated income, for here it is most plainly demonstrated that "a penny saved is a penny earned."

Fabric Cleaner.

I have been trying a new fabric cleaner which is highly recommended. It comes in liquid form and so far as I have tried it, I find that it really does.

It certainly cleans fabrics perfectly and with little trouble. It is declared to be absolutely non-inflammable which is, I think, most important.

It is for use on shoes as well as clothing—that is, fabric shoes such as linen, canvas and cravatette and also for light leathers. It is much more easy to use than are the usual cleaning preparations.

A Helper.

It seems as though the big dry goods stores have thought of almost everything possible to assist women in helping themselves and now one of the Los Angeles' establishments has gone still further. An expert in style is to be placed in certain departments to assist the shoppers in selecting these garments which are most becoming. What a relief it will be to many women who are always at a loss as to what to buy for themselves! There are many who make no mistakes in purchasing for others, who can clothe their families properly and inexpensively, for the same reason but who, when it comes to buying for themselves are completely at a loss. A few words from the style expert will be of great benefit to such.

Fashions.

Some of the turbans of white straw over which veillings are drawn, figures furnishing the much-to-be-desired combination of the season's black and white, are very chic when trimmed simply with an embroidered band and an ornament of black and white beads.

Black and white rubber belts are popular for use with the new gowns in these colors. One of the local stores has a fine assortment of these belts.

DROWNED BY A WHALE.

BOSTON, March 20.—News of the death of First-Mate Cyrus of the whaling schooner John M. Minot has just reached here in advice from the Provincetown whaling fleet. Cyrus, known as one of the most accurate harpoon throwers in the fleet, was drowned by a whale. He had just fired his iron into the side of a fine sperm whale when he stepped in a loop of the line at his feet. Instantly he was whirled over the bow of the boat and held securely by the tautening line, and was drawn to his death in the sea. His body was not recovered.

FINAL NOTICE! LAST DAYS OF SPECIAL SALE

The supply of slightly damaged sets offered by the Los Angeles TIMES ENCYCLOPEDIA CLUB through previous advertisements in this paper is now nearly exhausted. We reserve the right to declare the sale closed WITHOUT PREVIOUS NOTICE, and immediately thereafter a new club will be formed and the regular scale of prices will go into effect. Unless through some strange accident, there will never again be such a chance as this to obtain THE NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA AND ATLAS at practically your own price. Therefore, if you have not yet informed yourself in regard to our offer, we urge upon you now to do so in order to avoid possible future disappointment. Attached to this advertisement you will find a coupon WHICH IS IN NO SENSE AN ORDER, BUT SIMPLY A REQUEST FOR INFORMATION, and does not obligate you in any way. If you will fill out this coupon carefully, we shall be glad to send you full particulars in regard to our special slightly damaged-set offer, but you must do so NOW. THIS AD MAY NOT APPEAR AGAIN.

A Big Opportunity and a Big Success

As already explained in these columns, the TIMES ENCYCLOPEDIA CLUB, following the dynamiting of The Times Building, had thrust upon it the opportunity to offer to readers and friends of the paper a strictly limited number of slightly damaged sets at perfectly unheard-of prices. The readers and friends of THE TIMES have not been slow to appreciate the remarkable character of this offer, and so large has the demand been that we are now compelled to announce that this offer may be suspended at any moment without further previous notice. Just as soon as these few sets have been sold out at damaged-set prices, the offer, as a matter of course, COMES TO AN END; and thenceforward the established scale of prices at which THE NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA has already been sold along the entire Pacific Coast will be resumed and maintained. We repeat here our guarantee repeatedly given, that the inside of the volumes has not been affected by fire or water and that in most cases the outside of the volumes has been so slightly affected that the damage could scarcely be seen.

A Great Home Reference Work in 12 Vols.

During its sale in connection with newspaper clubs along the entire Pacific Coast, THE NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA AND ATLAS has been made generally familiar. It is a work pre-eminently intended for the busy man and for the home, and in it special emphasis has been laid upon convenience and readability. It is a valuable work for young folks for their own reading or for use in connection with their school studies, and has been highly recommended by educators, east and west. We should be glad to show any one who is interested many commendations received from prominent persons and from others in all walks of life who have purchased this book for themselves or their family and have been delighted with it. In addition to particulars of our damaged-set offer, the coupon will bring you further details in regard to the character of the work—comprising 55,000 articles, covering some 8500 pages, embellished by 3000 illustrations, and equipped with 150 maps.

The Closing Coupon

This may be the last time that this ad will appear, and we suggest that you fill out the attached coupon plainly, giving us your full address, so that no mistake may be made or delay occur, and forward it to us by return mail. We shall answer the coupon promptly—first come, first served. This offer is extended only to responsible men and women. No children need apply.

TURNS FIREBUG FOR REVENGE.

Three Attempts Fail to Burn Jewelry Store.

Clerk Confesses Motive for Incendiary Acts.

Sought to Cast Suspicion on Fellow Employee.

After three attempts to burn the wholesale store of the E. W. Reynolds company, manufacturers of jewelry, No. 342 South Broadway, Fred Barnes, about 18 years old, was arrested at the store last evening by Detectives Hosick, Zeigler and Williams, in charge of arson.

Barnes, who lives at Seventy-sixth street and Vermont, was just outside the city limits, was employed at the jewelry store as a clerk. He has made a full confession, the police said, giving as his motive for the incendiary act a desire to cast suspicion on another employee against whom he had a grudge.

Barnes' arrest followed a general call for police help about noon yesterday. The management of the Reynolds store, damaged by the outbreaks of a third fire on the premises, telephoned to the detective bureau that the culprit had been locked up in the building by Crossing Officer Peter McLean when he closed the store door on the outbreak of flames.

Detective Sergeant Chapman sent detectives to the store, but the building was large and while officers and firemen were busy in the front it would have been an easy matter to escape through the rear, or even by climbing among the firemen and others who rushed in to fight the blaze.

Attorney Haas of Los Angeles, representing the annexationists, appealed that the election carry it will depend upon the decision of the Supreme Court whether or not this strip shall come into this city. Miss Sullivan, a native of the annexationists of Tropico as a city of the sixth class was called by the Supervisors and injunction was filed against the Supervisors by Hal Davenport of Tropico, a supporter of the annexationists.

At 9:30 a.m. yesterday, Judge Wilson permitted the election to go on and continued the hearing until the following Monday. The election carried and at the hearing which followed the election was in favor of incorporation.

The election tomorrow is being manifested by the people of this place.

TAKES NO CHANCES.

Ratification of Charter Amendments Causes Police Commission to Adjourn Without Transacting Business.

The Police Commission met last night and spent an hour behind closed doors in the Mayor's office, and then an open meeting adjourned until next Monday night. The Mayor announced that all cases set for hearing last night, and all business of any character whatever, would be taken up at the meeting this week.

The police action was the result of a telegram from Sacramento by City Attorney Shenk, to the effect that the charter amendments had been ratified by the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the officers say they had found enough evidence against Barnes to warrant his arrest, and he was taken to the Police Station.

After being questioned with the detectives for more than an hour, he broke down and confessed.

He told the officers that the first time he tried to burn down the store was in the forenoon of the 16th inst., when he threw a quantity of gasoline and gunny sacks into the office, possibly to scare the police.

WOMEN DUPES PACKING ARMS FOR MEXICAN INSURGENTS.

Smuggling Munitions of War in Violation of the Neutrality Laws—Work Which Men of the Local Junta Dare no Longer Do—"On to Ensenada" the War Cry—Threats of Local Incendiary.

EARING arrest of the bands of revolutionaries of the United States government for violations of the neutrality laws, the band of "red" who comprise the local junta of the Mexican revolutionaries party are enrolling women to do the work formerly performed by themselves. The women have been secured through the grosses misrepresentations, and laboring under the illusion that they are performing deeds of heroism and merit, do not hesitate to smuggle munitions of war for their local employers.

According to authoritative information, over a score of women have been thus secured by the socialistic Junta to carry out the criminal propaganda of the junta. Some of the women are sympathizers, but the majority are suffering from excess of temperamental. Less than a half dozen are Mexicans, and the balance are Americans. The American women thus secured, possess socialistic ideals, or are friends of socialistic workers. Though commanded by the Junta, they are overjoyed to be of service to the Junta.

According to the Junta, Mrs. Ethel Duffy Turner, wife of John Kenneth Turner, author of "Barbarous Mexico," and political adviser of the socialistic Magen Junta, has been overjoyed to be of service to the Junta in procuring women dupes. In various secret meetings held, she has urged the women to join the anarchist band and aid them in their every endeavor—even to the extent of becoming revolutionaries. The Junta officials the United States authorities will not dare to arrest women for aiding the anarchist band at present holding Mexico. They preach that America is sentiment and opinion, and not power, the same—that's why the are useful.

"ON TO ENSENADA." The revolutionary junta on East Fourth street will move to Ensenada immediately, if the robber band led by Generals Simon Berthold and Leyva succeed in defeating the Mexican Federal. The bandits theorize that with their base of operations shifted at Ensenada, they could direct the operations of the field forces better, and make their every movement more effective. For that reason they are awaiting with the keenest interest the news of the revolution to take place in the vicinity of Tepic. If the anarchist win the cry will be, "On to Ensenada."

TRAFFIC RECORD.
STRAIGHT TALK
FROM RETAILER.Department Man Gives View point of Shipper.Tells Traffic Men Kinks He Has Encountered.Another Steamship Line
Makes Cut in Rate War.

Twenty years of experience in connection with the traffic department of a big retail store, which W. E. Chamberlain, general manager of Hamburger's Department Store, is in the talk with authority upon the relation of the shipper to the railroad traffic men, at the semi-monthly luncheon of the Los Angeles Traffic Association at the Angelus Hotel, yesterday.

"The three important items of freight handling are," he said, "time, tracing and claims. The matter of rates does not enter at all into a selection of route, as they are the same on all transcontinental lines. Of course, the rates are too high, but they will be. It is not the question of what one pays for an article; it is the human nature to want it. The shipper pays the freight, and whether it costs 2 per cent, or 20 per cent, to land merchandise, is of comparatively small consequence to the retailer, so long as he knows that all other dealers in the same line of wares are paying the same rates."

"Tracing is a very important matter, especially to the retailer who figures on the basis of never buying a dollar's worth of goods until the very minute that he needs them, and then, of course, wants them without an hour's delay."

"It seems to me, from an experience of nearly twenty years connected with the traffic department of a retail establishment, that the tracing and movement of goods can be materially improved in Los Angeles."

He related an experience, after which he said: "That a little closer connection might be had between the down-town freight office and the solicitor or collector of claims, and the department that handles the movement of cars and trains. Solicitors do not make a very strenuous effort to help the shipper out of his difficulties in tracing and claim work."

He considered claims the most important feature in connection with the handling of less than carload shipments to retailers. In this branch of transportation, I firmly believe that a claim department with a single letter counter, and a forty-five-day delay away more burdens from the road than a solicitor can secure in months of talkative, faultless work in tracing and efforts to deliver the goods."

"My opinion is that better results can be obtained when the traffic, if the collection department is vested with authority to adjust loss and damage claims. He is the man who is vitally interested in increasing the volume of shipping for his road, knows more about the personality of the party with whom he deals, and the responsibility of the institution of the claim, and he should not only have the absolute authority, but the ability to settle claims of this character."

"There is no question but that Los Angeles is on the eve of a great increase in population and business in all directions. The completion of the Owens River aqueduct with its wealth of water; the cutting up of thousands of acres of land now under dry farming, wherein hundreds of families have gained a home; the opening of the Panama Canal bringing us in close touch with the great waterways of Europe; the San Francisco Exposition, which will bring thousands of visitors and permanent residents to Southern California; the rapidly-growing commerce with the Orient will, without doubt, bring the population of Los Angeles very near the million mark in 1916, and, unless the ranting laborers of San Francisco succeed in closing up our industry, we will be the second, if not the 'much-kissed Hobson' and his fellow 'ringos' manage to start something with Japan that they can't finish quickly, we shall surely see and enjoy conditions that are most desired by everyone interested in their own welfare and the welfare of their glorious and beloved 'City of the Angels.'

CUT IN RATES.

PACIFIC COAST IN LINE.
Following his arrival in Los Angeles from San Diego yesterday, C. D. Dunn, general passenger agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, announced a reduction in the passenger rates between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The announcement made by Mr. Dunn yesterday reduces the present rate of $11.50 on the President and Governor and $10.50 on the Santa Rosa to $7.50 on the first two-named boats and $7.25 on the Santa Rosa. These rates include berths and meals.

On the route the Yale and Harvard, operated by the Pacific Navigation Company, is $3.25, with berth and meals extra.

The San Francisco & Portland Steamship Company has a rate of $3.25 on the Beaver and the Bear, and $3.25 on the Rose City with berth and meals extra.

The boats of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company operate between Puget Sound and San Diego, stopping at San Francisco, Redondo Beach, San Pedro and San Diego. The San Francisco and Portland steamers operate between Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The Yale and Harvard make four trips each a week between Los Angeles and San Francisco, and two trips each a week between Los Angeles and San Diego.

Salt Lake Road Open.

The Salt Lake is again open for through traffic. With the departure of the through trains from Salt Lake and Los Angeles Sunday night, regular traffic was resumed, following a break of about 5 weeks, when the tracks in the Meadow Valley wash in Nevada were washed out.

Tourists Starting East.

The eastward tourist movement has begun. The California Limited on the Santa Fe line will run two sections yesterday, to accommodate the rush of winter tourists returning home. The Salt Lake and Southern Pacific report the carrying of extra equipment on regular trains, meanwhile, there is an diminution of the westward movement caused by the one-way colonist rates to Southern California now in effect from all points east of Denver and El Paso.

New Express Train.

Arrangements are being perfected to install a new and faster express train revised by the Wells-Fargo Express Company in connection with the Santa Fe railroad. The object is to meet that now operated by the American Express Company over the Salt Lake and San Joaquin lines to the Atlantic Coast. W. J. Blatch, manager of the traffic manager of the Santa Fe, who will arrive in Los Angeles today in company with Col. Roosevelt, will probably make formal announcement of the arrangements for the new express train service.

TRAFFIC MEN PROMOTED.
T. C. Peck, general passenger agent of the Salt Lake railroad has been advanced of the promotion of his cousin, E. A. Peck, to the position of general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, with headquarters at Pittsburgh. Notice was also received here yesterday of the appointment of Henry E. Jarman as Pacific Coast agent of the Lackawanna railroad at San Francisco. John A. Fitzpatrick of Buffalo, N. Y., has been appointed manager of the Hawley line in Los Angeles, succeeded E. J. Naylor, transferred to San Francisco.

REMODELING TICKET OFFICE.
An overhead conveyor for handling cash and tickets has been installed at the city ticket office of the Southern Pacific at South Spring streets. An additional floor space is given up to the Pullman company. There are now five ticket windows instead of two.

HERE TO BOOST.

G. C. White, industrial agent of the West Coast Railroad, is a firm believer in the future of Mexico as an agricultural empire. He is here from his home in Guaymas to boost the territory which he represents.

"The revolution is only having one serious effect," said White last night. "It is keeping outside capital away from Mexico. People already there are not paying any attention to the revolution, and are not disturbed by it."

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES HAVE EVIDENCE THAT SYNDICATE MADE BUSINESS OF FURNISHING CREDENTIALS OF
DECEASED ORIENTALS TO CONTRABANDS, WHETHER DESCRIPTION FITS OR NOT.

The confession of Wong You while resisting efforts to extradite him, has placed evidence in the hands of the Federal authorities which leads them to believe that syndicates are making business of furnishing contrabands with the credentials of deceased orientals.

Concerted efforts are being made to break up the practice. As the first step Wong was yesterday sentenced to the penitentiary for one year. When he completes the term, he will be deported.

In some instances the descriptions on the certificates are such that they will fit any one of a number of contrabands. On this account, many laborers are enabled to fool the officials annually. The certificate issued to Wong was of a man several inches shorter than himself. The picture showed a well-formed nose, while his nasal appendage had been partially destroyed in an accident. He had a thick head of hair, and the picture showed a bald scalp.

As a result of the hearing, Commissioner Van Dyke entered an order of deportation.

Wong then confessed that he had perjured himself. When he entered a plea of guilty, Judge Wellborn, of the United States District Court, thought that the ends of justice would be served by sending him back to the Orient.

The exclusion acts are being made to rigidly enforce it, which undoubtedly will demand a good while. The dead man's certificate is regarded by his relatives as part of his estate, and there are ready purchasers for it.

So great is the demand for this means of defeating the efforts of the immigration department, that the men who traffic in them are not in the least particular as to whether or not the description in the certificate fits the purchaser.

Three high-powered Federal patrol launchers are now patrolling the coast of this State for several steam launches which are known to be endeavoring to land cargoes of contrabands on American soil.

The orientals took passage from Mazatlan for Ensenada on the steamer "Mazatlan" and were under surveillance as soon as they were discharged from the ship. They soon embarked on the steam launches, and under cover of night, started toward this coast.

Capo Almendras, of the government, has been ordered to San Diego, with a well-armed crew, dashed out to sea in an endeavor to sight the launches. Two similar boats, which ply out of San Francisco Bay, were ordered to come out to patrol the coast.

It is thought by the officials that the contrabands are headed for the coast near Santa Barbara. All Chinese smuggling operations south of Santa Barbara have practically ceased. The troops have cut off all means of communication with the coast on the coast in this vicinity, together with the arrest of the leaders of two bands of smugglers, have made this part of the State immune for the present.
